CHSAA President Ray Nash was Master of Ceremonies at the Hall of Fame induction dinner

The class of 2022 included men whose commitment to Catholic education and athletics is unparalleled. Seven new inductees took their rightful place in the CHSAA Hall of Fame on May 26 at the Inwood Country Club on the Rockaway Peninsula. These lifers were honored for their dedication to the New York City Catholic League as either a student-athlete, coach, administrator, official, or contributor.

They are Tom Konchalski, Richard Potter, Dan Anderson, Ed Blackburn, Andre Anselme, Frank Gambino, and Dan McBride.

The event was a smashing success attended by about 250 well-wishers. Pictured below, Joe Dunleavy and John Coman accept the award on behalf of Tom.

Coach Robert Holford holds Thomas C Konchalski Southeast Queens Metro Classic

Coach Robert Holford organized this two-day grassroots tournament honor of Tom. Sixteen teams participated including HS, JV and Middle School. It is events like this one that teach our youth values such as sportsmanship, teamwork and integrity. Tom would have loved to be in the gym those days and we know he was there in spirit.

The event raised $1,000 for the Foundation.

We all know the enormous amount of time and effort that goes into staging a competition such as this.

Our heartfelt thanks go out to Coach Holford and Hassan Jennings, both of whom were great friends of Tom.

Many thanks to Tom's Team who have already donated to the Spring Fundraising Drive. With appreciation, if you have not had the opportunity to contribute and would like to,
