Spring Fundraising Drive continues

Coach Danny Hurley and Coach Tobin Anderson honor Tom at "17th BTIG Giving Day"

Orchestrated by none other than our own Barry "Slice" Rohrsen and Rich Petriccione, these major donations gave a boost to the Foundation's Spring Fundraising drive!

Coming off their incredible performances at the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, Coach Hurley and Coach Andeson turned their attention to philanthropy. These two men were very close friends of Tom. They most generously chose his Foundation as the recipient of the funds generated by their participation in BTIG Giving Day.

Please read more about this event in the article below.

Many, many thanks also go to Mike Pizzo for his support of Tom Konchalski Foundation and his involvement in BTIG Giving Day

Please help us grow our grassroots summer programs.

Pictured above are the volunteer coaches and boys from one of eight workout and skills building sessions from last summer. Held in parks and gyms throughout NYC, we helped over 100 boys .

Starting small, the Tom Konchalski Foundation and we the stakeholders, plan on expanding our summer programs in 2023 and the years ahead. We will have more impactful tournament games, more boys sent to summer camps and an expanded program of workout and skills sessions throughout the city. Our focus will be on teaching both basketball and life skills as well as the values that guided Tom's life.

We need your help. Would you take this opportunity during our annual Spring Fundraising Drive to give what you can? All donations, large and small are deeply appreciated. Please click here for our website and to donate with a credit card.

Barry "Slice" Rohrssen inducted into the Brooklyn Old Timers Hall of Fame

No one has meant more to the success of the Tom Konchalski Foundation than Barry "Slice" Rohrssen. With deep ties to the collegiate and professional basketball community as well as media, dignitaries and other community leaders, Barry has been at the tip of the spear in our fundraising efforts.

But more than that, Barry has poured his heart and soul into the endeavor to remember, honor and memorialize Tom's life.

Each year, BTIG pools its global resources to host the annual BTIG Commissions for Charity Day (BTIG Charity Day), where the day's net commissions are donated to nonprofit organizations, many of which support children in need worldwide. Since the event's inception in 2003, more than US$50 million in commission profits have been donated to hundreds of charitable organizations.

Celebrity partners join BTIG for the event to help generate interest and excitement, build momentum, and to act as ambassadors for their respective charities of choice. Throughout the trading day, all-star athletes, top-recording artists, celebrities from film and television, business leaders and cultural icons join BTIG's institutional traders to help increase donations and raise awareness for a variety of charities.

With the support of our clients, celebrity partners and employees, we are increasingly making an impact year after year to charitable organizations around the world. We are very proud of what we have accomplished together so far and look forward to what lies ahead.
