St. Thomas More Prep Honors Konchalski, Coach Jere Quinn Earns 1,200th Win

OAKDALE, CT — Long before scouting became crowded with hype, Tom Konchalski built trust the old-fashioned way: with honesty, insight, and an unwavering commitment to student-athletes. That legacy was honored Friday night, January 16, 2026, as St. Thomas More Prep hosted Worcester Academy in a special exhibition game benefiting the Tom Konchalski Foundation.

The Chancellors marked the occasion with a victory — one that also delivered a milestone for head coach Jere Quinn.

The win was No. 1,200 of Quinn's career, achieved in his 48th season at St. Thomas More.

"I bet Tom helped 400 or 450 of our kids over the years," Quinn said. "A wonderful man."

Konchalski, who passed away in February 2021, was widely respected for his HSBI Report, a trusted evaluation tool that helped thousands of high school players find the right college fit.

A fellow Archbishop Molloy graduate, Quinn shared Konchalski's belief in telling players the truth and placing development above hype.

The Tom Konchalski Foundation continues that mission by providing need-based scholarships and financial assistance to students who reflect Tom's values. Quinn hopes the exhibition becomes an annual tradition.

On a night dedicated to integrity, mentorship, and basketball done right, the Chancellors delivered a win that carried meaning well beyond the scoreboard.

A special and heartfelt thank you and congratulations go to Coach Jere Quinn for his extraordinary and longstanding support of the Tom Konchalski Foundation. His partnership, generosity, and commitment to honoring Tom's legacy continue to make a meaningful difference.

Reaching 1,200 career wins across 48 seasons is a remarkable coaching milestone, but those who know Jere understand that his greatest impact is measured in the lives of the young people he guides. We are deeply grateful for his friendship and his unwavering support of the Foundation's mission.
